MODULAR LUGGAGE SYSTEM

Luggage without baggage, the Iron Rider Modular Luggage System (MLS) gives you the ability you pack as much or as little as you need. We know every trip is unique, and Iron Rider was created with this in mind, allowing you to take only the gear you need, with as much or as little as your destination dictates.

Lockable zippers with pulls

Large openings for easy packing

Plastic molded handles

Universal mounting straps fits most sissy bars

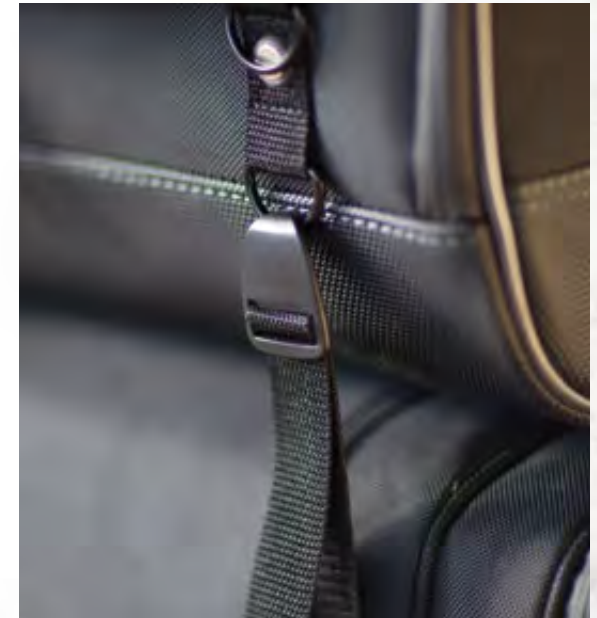

Weatherproof zippers

Non-slip rubberized base for added stability

The MLS adapts to the needs of you, the rider. Unlike other luggage products, each individual bag can be used separately or combined with other pieces for additional storage. Made from durable 1680 polyester, each bag offers generous storage areas, convenient exterior pockets, interior compartments, zipper pulls with extenders, molded clip-on handles, rain covers, and a non-slip rubberized base for stability.

- ▷ Pack for a weekend trip or pack for a week-long trip
- ▷ Convenient "his" and "hers" luggage set-up
- ▷ Keep wet rain gear or damp bike cover away from dry clothing

This allows the rider to add, remove, or combine separate luggage pieces as storage needs change. Select from four different luggage products to create the right amount of luggage for any riding situation.

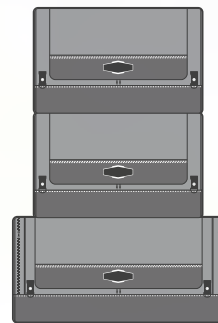

Below are 18 configuration options taking into consideration safety and balanced load capacity. Most riders will stack two bags, and sometimes 3 if they feel safe. It all depends on the type of ride you're going on, your comfort level with riding with luggage, and your center of gravity!

SADDLEBAG MEASUREMENT

* All bikes are different, please use this as a reference only

Proper measurements required for fitting saddlebags are as follows:

1. Bags are measured from the back of the bag
2. Measure side to side (B): From the back of the seat (rider's position) or shock to the back of the turn signal. Measurement should be greater than the top of the bag length (L).
3. Measurement from the top to bottom (A): From the bottom of the seat pad or to the top of the fender to the top of the exhaust pipe. Subtract 2 inches from measurement. This is your maximum saddlebag height (H) for clearance.
4. Maximum Clearance (MC): The second measurement in (parentheses) is the maximum clearance on the bag. Longest point to longest point.

All throw-over saddlebags must be used in conjunction with a saddlebag support bracket to keep bags from interfering with any operating components. Two inches of space must be allowed between bottom of bag and top of exhaust pipes for safety. Re-check clearance when saddlebag is loaded (and with rider if you will have passenger) to reassure clearance requirements have been met. * Do not overload bags - recommended maximum weight is 10 lbs. per side.

Height x Length x Maximum Clearance x Depth
